

By Heileny Suárez — Creator of the Spiral Narrative Framework™ and the Spiralverse™

I am a Venezuelan creator, storyteller, and designer.
My voice comes from a lineage of stories untold,
from a place where emotion is not a genre, but a language.

The Spiral Narrative Framework™ and the Spiralverse™ are original creations, born from over a decade of creative practice, personal exploration, and emotional insight.
They are not adapted, borrowed, or inspired by any existing academic, literary, or cinematic theory.
They are mine. Entirely.

Every character, symbol, and world within the Spiralverse™ is fictional and rooted in a vision that prioritizes emotional truth over structural convention.

I respectfully acknowledge that many voices—especially those of women, immigrants, and independent thinkers have historically been overlooked or marginalized in global creative industries.
This statement affirms that my voice will not be silenced, erased, or claimed by others.

All works, concepts, and artistic materials under the Spiral Narrative Framework™ and Spiralverse™ umbrella are protected by international copyright law and registered under the authorship of Heileny Suárez.

They represent not only a creative milestone—but a cultural one.
This is my voice. This is my system. This is my legacy.
